

LUMCOS 2009 is the first scientific-technical conference for young scientists devoted to:

- theoretical and experimental researches of luminescent processes in condensed matter;
- creation of new luminescent materials and investigation of their physical and chemical properties;
- application of luminescent materials in up-to-date fields of science and engineering.

Young Scientists and specialists are welcome!!

The working languages of the Conference are English and Russian.

Conference Topics:

- Luminescent materials, technology and preparation methods;
- Application of luminescent materials;
- Photonics of Condensed matter;
- Luminescent methods in biological and medical researches;
- Nanomaterials and nanotechnology;

Important dates:

- September 26, 2009
Deadline for registration and abstract submission
- October 12, 2009
Notification to authors
- November 17, 2009
Conference beginning
